From the Director's Desk

MOHIT KHANNA | DISHA SHAH

These days we have been witnessing rains aplenty. The sultry weather has given way to a heavenly earthy muddy fragrance in the air. The plants are lush green, erect and upbeat. Taking the cue from nature, shouldn't we all follow suit?

Absolutely, we must and that is what we at Ice did. We resolved that we would put gloom and despair behind us and only carry forward the learnings from the pandemic on our forward journey. Normalcy is getting restored in ways more than one and our joys know no bounds.

This we have been incorporating in all facets of lives, minds and psyches and we are a delighted bunch. We Iceians have taken onto ourselves the responsibility of spreading happiness all around. Complimenting one another's appearances, appreciating their food and by having each other's back; happiness is infectious and contagious here.

We aspire to keep this growing and flowing as being happy never goes out of style.

Love and peace from us to you,

MOHIT KHANNA

DESTINATION SPACE

After having explored numerous wonderful wonders on the face of the earth, humans have been making a quest for the skies and beyond for quite sometime now. Initially what started as exploration of the space has now gone several notches ahead and has progressed to commercial space travel too.

Aerospace companies like Blue Origin and Virgin Galactic are working relentlessly towards human space travel for recreational purposes. Different types of space tourism are being innovated and developed with each passing minute. These include space tourism beyond the Earth's orbit and orbital and sub-orbital space tourism within.

So far, three countries- the United States of America, Russia and China are the ones which are the forerunners in their quest to give us all a destination beyond the sun, moon and the stars.

Break through innovations and revolutions are happening by the minute and are getting more and more intrigued by the charm and wonder of space and beyond. In the present day, a journey into the outer world costs a bomb; but for people with both money and passion; who is complaining?

The advances in this domain have shown to us that even sky is not the limit if humans put their mind to it. The universe full of countless secrets is beckoning to us all!
